This home is situated within walking distance of the little friendly town of Edenbridge in Kent, and backs on to fields and countryside with a small river for fishing and a spot of kayaking. The town has all the essentials with 2 supermarkets and a few other shops. They are surrounded by lovely countryside and some great country pubs within a short drive.

For history buffs, there's the town's museum, Hever Castle, Chartwell and Knole Park, all within just a few miles. It's 1 hour from London and Brighton by train or car. Oxted, Sevenoaks and Tunbridge Wells are the nearest larger town centres.

This is a lovely area to holiday with so much to do and see for all age groups. Some area websites below...

This 3 bedroom semi is described as...'a ruff-tuff family home rather than a show home and house-sitters are very welcome! There's a good kitchen and a separate good-sized living room. We have good wifi, but no TV, so bring your own laptop for watching stuff.' The garden is a good size, has football goals and netball hoop but isn't fenced in at the back, so need to be aware if bringing young children.

There are also 2 fields behind the house, and 3 WW2 pillboxes. Ideally our house guests would keep an eye on the land by having a walk around each day looking out for any "lost sheep" from the neighbouring farm and any damage. Thank you.

The couple are linked with a couple of churches in the town, but principally The Eden Church, a baptist church. Info on:- www.theeden.church
