Carluke is a small town situated on the edge of the Clyde Valley in Lanarkshire, Scotland. It has a village setting and a rather quaint shopping centre, with good amenities and eating places.

Within 6 miles are various garden centres, boating lake and great walks. Motherwell is 6 miles, Glasgow 20 miles and Edinburgh 25miles; easy access to M14 and M8. This is a wonderful area to holiday, and great for countryside pursuits and also close to Scotland's major historical and cultural cities. <http://www.daygo.co.uk/lanarkshire/carluke/>

This luxury downstairs flat was built about 10 years ago and is very suitable for a middle aged or elderly couple....a young couple would be fine too! There is easy access to a private car park. There are beautiful shared gardens with a secluded area for sitting out. Garden table and chairs are available. Shops, eating places and the church mentioned later are all within 500 yards.

Kirkton Church is a thriving 'Church of Scotland'. 300 plus people gather for morning worship, and the services are a good mix of both traditional and contemporary in style. There are many midweek activities and meetings for all ages. They have a real heart for mission with a lot of outreach activities. More information on their website:-
