This early 1970's terraced town house is situated in the centre of Veurne, a beautiful small town with medieval roots . It has a big square with a weekly market on Wednesdays. Right outside of town there are a lot of cycle paths through the fields. The sea is a 10 minute drive by car or a 30 minute cycle. The motorway is right next to Veurne, making it easily accessible from Calais- 50 minutes, or Dunkirk- 30 mins. Veurne also has a train station, & local buses to explore the area. There are 2 electrical bikes with a bike trailer for kids, and house-swappers are welcome to use these.

As well as kitchen/diner/living room, there is a downstairs toilet & upstairs bathroom with toilet. The first floor has the master double bedroom, 1 kids room & 1 spare room which has a single bed that can slide out to a double bed. The second floor has a single bedroom/office. Wifi is throughout the house, & there's a chrome-cast without a remote in the TV, so house-swappers can cast things from a mobile device. There's no garden as such, but there is a small private patio outside (5x2m) with 4 chairs, a small table and a toddler slide.

There's a park with a kids playground next to the city square, and another with open green spaces 300m away. It's called Vauban Parc.

'Vineyard Kerk Veurne' is a small church plant with 20 people attending each Sunday. It's part of the Vineyard movement and has a mix of a contemplative and contemporary style of worship, and is a friendly fellowship. Their meetings take place in the chapel of the Annuntiata Institute in Veurne.

"The services are in Dutch, but somebody is sure to be happy to translate for you!"

Sport's facilities	A large sports hall in town, with football pitches, open areas, tennis courts, etc. "We love cycling through the country side!"
Local places of interest	Veurne was the Allied headquarters during World War 1. There's a really nice museum on the town square about this and life behind the front. There's also a bakery museum that's nice for kids as well as adults. There's a wild animal sanctuary a bit further out (20 minute drive) called "de Zonnegloed" There's obviously the sea with lots of activities: cinema, bowling, ... Bruges is 35 minutes away. Cape Blanc Nez and Cape Gris Nez is an hours drive away, but really beautiful to visit. It's the other side of the cliffs of Dover. Really nice to hike.
