The family live in Seal Rock, a fabulous location along the Oregon Coast of the Pacific Ocean. Eight miles south is the medium sized city of Newport which has a bay front with great shopping and a good selection of eateries. Also locally is the lovely Nye Beach. This is very much a tourist destination & many people take their vacation in this area. See websites below.

This two storey Cape Cod style wood-framed home is clean & well maintained. It is very cosy & inviting. From open windows & in the garden, can be heard the sound of the sea, the birds, and the frogs! It is all very tranquil & teeming with wildlife.

The self-contained bottom floor is for the house swappers, while the top floor is unavailable.

The private garden is mostly laid to lawn with garden table & chairs & a barbecue.

The beach access is walking distance.

This is a friendly 'bluff' area which is safe for walking, cycling, skateboarding etc. While the nearest town & shopping centre is in Newport, 8 miles, there is a convenience store closer. Public transport is good & there are 2 adult bikes available to house swappers.

'Newport Nazarene' is a very large thriving fellowship with 700 members. There are 2 services in the morning and one in the evening. There are a host of midweek activities & meetings for all age groups. It is part of the Church of the Nazarene, a Protestant Christian church in the Wesleyan-Holiness tradition. Their website is very exciting & informative <http://www.newportnaz.com/>
